Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2017 (with comparative financial information as of and for the year ended December 31, 2016)

(1) Organizational Structure and Activities

International Planned Parenthood Federation – Western Hemisphere Region, Inc. (IPPF/WHR), a not-for-profit corporation exempt from income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, was established to promote sexual and reproductive health, including family planning, in the Western Hemisphere. While IPPF/WHR is an independent legal entity, it also functions as a regional partner of International Planned Parenthood Federation, headquartered in London, England (IPPF/London). IPPF/WHR supports and coordinates sexual and reproductive health, including family planning activities carried out by 39 autonomous national member associations (MAs) in the Western Hemisphere, six collaborative partners, and a number of other nonprofit organizations; including Federacion Internacional de la Planeacion Familiar - Mexico, A.C., a Mexican entity formed in 2017. IPPF/WHR also provides financial and technical assistance and advisory services to these organizations. Such amounts from IPPF/London represented 30% and 18% of total operating support and revenue for the years ended December 31, 2017 and 2016, respectively.

Unrestricted support received from IPPF/London is used for both program and supporting services. Other unrestricted support received by IPPF/WHR is allocated in amounts determined by the IPPF/WHR Allocations Committee of the board of directors to projects, the purpose of which is to advance the cause of sexual and reproductive health, including family planning. In 2017 and 2016, IPPF/London has made grants directly to IPPF/WHR for its use in the region, and accordingly, IPPF/WHR has included such support in the accompanying statement of activities.

The IPPF/WHR activities respond and contribute to the Global Strategic Framework of IPPF/London. The Strategic Framework 2015–2022 is a bold and aspirational vision of what IPPF/London plans to achieve and how IPPF/WHR will achieve it, over the next seven years. It is the culmination of an extensive global consultative process involving MAs, partners, and donors, and was approved by IPPF/London's highest decision-making body, the Governing Council, in November 2014.

The Global Strategic Framework sets the priorities that will allow IPPF/London to deliver impact as a sexual and reproductive health and rights (SRHR) movement over the next seven years. It will guide national MAs and partners in formulating their own country-specific strategies, based on their resources, and is tailored to serve the most marginalized groups in local contexts. It also provides focus to the Secretariat in its international influence and in its support to MAs.

IPPF/WHR's strategy responds to social, political, and demographic global trends. These include the expectations and potential of the largest ever generation of young people; ongoing, significant social and economic inequalities, including discrimination against girls and women; and opposition that threatens gains in human rights. It is also guided by evaluations and analyses of IPPF/WHR's work – strengths, weaknesses, capacities, resources, and networks.

The IPPF/WHR implementation plan covers the first four years of the new Strategic Framework (2016–2019). The mid-term review of the strategy will occur in 2019. The outcome from that review will inform the second implementation plan (2020–2022). These dates also align with many government donors who will update their five-year strategies in 2019 and with the completion of the IPPF Vision 2020 and commitments made to Family Planning 2020 (FP2020).

The resource allocation will respond to the priority objectives of the IPPF/WHR implementation plan.

Advocacy is priority objective one: Galvanize commitment and secure legislative, policy, and regulatory improvements. Although many governments have made public statements in support of sexual and reproductive health and rights, and gender equality, many of them have failed to realize their commitments through supportive legislation, policy, and funding. IPPF/WHR will further invest in political advocacy at all levels, including supporting MAs with capacity building, funding, and monitoring. IPPF/WHR will target key institutions, support and foster interested parliamentarians, engage with community and faith networks, and influence local regional and international processes.

Engage leaders is priority objective two: Engage women and youth leaders as advocates for change. The denial of sexual and reproductive health and rights affects women and young people disproportionately, so it is important they have the opportunity to be at the forefront of efforts to secure policy and practice change from governments. IPPF/WHR will strengthen its links with youth and women's organizations and provide pathways for women and young leaders—particularly girls—within IPPF/London. These programs will be designed in-country and will aim to engage socially excluded individuals, who may not typically be involved. Programs will promote male involvement in SRHR, and address issues related to masculinity, gender, and sexuality. IPPF/WHR will further provide resources to its youth networks to ensure greater coordination and collaboration.

Comprehensive sexuality education is priority objective three: Enable young people to access comprehensive sexuality education and realize their sexual rights. Data show that demand for sexual and reproductive health services and information among young people—the largest generation of young people ever—is already outstripping supply. IPPF/WHR knows that young people who are able to exercise their sexual rights, including by accessing services, have the potential to be agents of change by challenging prejudices and social norms, contributing to public health and development. IPPF/WHR will transition from a youth-friendly to a youth-centered organization by prioritizing and scaling up comprehensive sexuality education, which seeks to equip young people with skills, knowledge, and values to determine and enjoy their sexuality and protect their health; and focusing on interventions for the most marginalized youth, in and out of school.

Media and public opinion is priority objective four: Engage champions, opinion formers, and the media to promote health, choice, and rights. The impetus for major change in favor of sexual and reproductive health and rights often stems from changes in public attitudes and opinions. Mechanisms such as public campaigns are instrumental for raising awareness, promoting understanding, and mobilizing public support. IPPF/WHR will implement public campaigns to raise awareness of sexual and reproductive health and rights issues and generate support, with integrated communications strategies and the involvement of public-facing champions, opinion formers, and media outlets. IPPF/WHR will develop adaptable content, featuring personal testimonies, and deliver it through a variety of formats, including traditional and social media. This work will be embedded as a core part of what IPPF/WHR does.

December 31, 2017 (with comparative financial information as of and for the year ended December 31, 2016)

Deliver services directly is priority objective five: Deliver rights-based services, including safe and legal abortion and HIV services. Millions of women, men, and young people around the world still lack access to high-quality, rights-based sexual and reproductive health services, including safe and legal abortion and HIV services. Poor quality of care contributes to low utilization of services, which exacerbates poor health and mortality related to sex, reproduction, HIV, and reproductive cancers. People in humanitarian settings also face serious barriers to services. IPPF/WHR will ensure that all its service outlets provide high-quality services: they must not only provide a minimum, integrated package, but must also be client-centered, rights-based, youth friendly, and gender sensitive.

Enable services is priority objective six: Enable services through public and private health providers. With an increasing number of health providers offering sexual and reproductive health services, IPPF/WHR MAs have a distinct role in providing technical assistance. IPPF/WHR can ensure that services are responsive to the local community, are client-centered, and provide rights-based, supportive care to all. IPPF/WHR will develop new formal partnerships with public and private providers. IPPF/WHR will deliver pre- and in-service training for medical personnel and integrated sexual and reproductive health services in partner facilities and strengthen supply chain management and quality of care.

Institutional development is priority objective seven: Enhance operational effectiveness and double national and global income. IPPF/WHR is committed and has an ethical obligation to make the most of its resources and to be flexible and responsive to changing political and economic contexts. To maximize the number of people IPPF/WHR can serve, it needs to increase its operational effectiveness. IPPF/WHR must remain relevant, responsible, and efficient in how it seeks funding, translates it into development outcomes, and sustains services to meet demand. IPPF/WHR is evolving its operations and financial structures to incorporate diverse business models that are fit for purpose in each of the specific contexts IPPF/WHR works. IPPF/WHR will ensure ongoing funding for its services by supporting MAs to develop social enterprises; recruiting and retaining staff and volunteers that bring business planning, market analysis, communications, and performance management skills; and strengthening financial and performance management at all levels.

Volunteers and supporters is priority objective eight: Grow IPPF/WHR's volunteer and activist supporter base. IPPF/WHR's work is demanded and delivered by communities: This groundswell of grassroots support gives legitimacy and is the foundation of IPPF/WHR's political advocacy. Opposition groups, a vocal minority in many places, threaten the gains that the sexual and reproductive health and rights movement has achieved, and there is now a need to grow and lead the volunteer and activist supporter base for sexual and reproductive health and rights at local levels to present a clear, alternative voice to groups that do not support sexual and reproductive rights.

(2) Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Basis of Accounting

The financial statements of IPPF/WHR are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.

Unrestricted net assets represent resources over which IPPF/WHR has full discretion with respect to use. Certain unrestricted net assets are designated by the board of directors for specified purposes. Temporarily restricted net assets represent expendable resources, which have been time or purpose restricted by the donor. Revenues are reported as increases in unrestricted net assets unless their use is limited by donor-imposed restrictions. Gains and losses on investments are reported as increases or decreases in unrestricted net assets unless their use is restricted by donors or by law. Expenses are reported as decreases in unrestricted net assets. When a donor restriction is accomplished by satisfying the restricted purpose or time restriction, temporarily restricted net assets are reclassified to unrestricted net assets and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions.

(b) Operations

IPPF/WHR excludes from operating activities endowment fund investment return in excess of spending rate (note 8), change in interest in the net assets of The IPPF WHR Fund (note 10), change in value for charitable gift annuities, bequests designated by the Allocations Committee of the board of directors, gain on foreign currency translation and nonrecurring gains and losses. All other revenue and all expenses are included in operating activities.

(c) Grants and Contributions

Grants and contributions, including unconditional promises to give, are recognized as revenue in the period received at the estimated present value of future cash flows. Amortization of the present value discount is recorded as additional contribution revenue in the appropriate net asset class. Contributions are considered to be available for unrestricted use, unless specifically restricted by the donor. Contributions received in securities or property are recorded at estimated fair value at the date of the gift. Conditional promises to give are not recognized until they become unconditional, that is, when the conditions on which they depend are substantially met. Bequest income is recorded when the will is declared valid and amounts can be reasonably determined.

Grants and contributions that specify a member association as the ultimate beneficiary are recognized as revenue in the period received. The related grant expense is recorded upon the signing of the subgrant agreement. Grants and contributions received on behalf of a specified nonmember organization as beneficiary are recorded as a liability to the specified beneficiary concurrent with recognition of the assets received from the donor.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2017 (with comparative financial information as of and for the year ended December 31, 2016)

IPPF/WHR enters into agreements with donors to accept and administer charitable gift annuities. Such agreements provide for payments to the donors or their beneficiaries based upon either the income earned on related investments or specified annuity amounts. Assets held under charitable gift annuities are included in investments. Contribution revenue is recognized at the date the annuity contract is established after recording liabilities for the estimated future payments expected to be made to the donors and/or other beneficiaries. The liabilities are adjusted annually for changes in the life expectancy of the beneficiary, amortization of the discount, and other changes in the estimates of future payments.

(d) Cash and Cash Equivalents

IPPF/WHR generally considers all highly liquid debt instruments with an original maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents, except those held by its investment managers as part of their investment portfolio.

(e) Investments

Investments are reported at fair value based upon quoted market prices, except for the estimated fair value of the alternative investment which, as a practical expedient, is based on the Net Asset Value (NAV) provided by the fund manager. This value is reviewed and evaluated by Fund management and agrees with the valuation methods and assumptions used in determining the NAV of this investment. The reported value may differ significantly from the value that would have been used had a ready market for this investment existed.

(f) Fair Value

Fair value is defined as the exchange price that would be received for an asset or paid to transfer a liability (an exit price) in the principal or most advantageous market for the asset or liability in an orderly transaction between market participants on the measurement date. The standard establishes a fair value hierarchy, which requires an entity to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. The standard describes three levels of inputs that may be used to measure fair value:

Level 1: Quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2: Observable inputs other than Level 1 prices such as quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities; quoted prices in markets that are not active; or other inputs that are observable or can be corroborated by observable market data for substantially the full term of the assets or liabilities

Level 3: Unobservable inputs that are supported by little or no market activity and that are significant to the fair value of the assets or liabilities

The following discussion describes the valuation methodologies used for financial assets measured at fair value. The techniques utilized in estimating the fair values are affected by the assumptions used, including discount rates and estimates of the amount and timing of future cash flows. Care should be exercised in deriving conclusions about IPPF/WHR's business, its value, or financial position, based on the fair value information of financial assets presented below.

Notes to Financial Statements

December 31, 2017 (with comparative financial information as of and for the year ended December 31, 2016)

Fair value estimates are made at a specific point in time, based on available market information and judgments about the financial asset, including estimates of timing, amount of expected future cash flows, and the credit standing of the issuer. In some cases, the fair value estimates cannot be substantiated by comparison to independent markets. In addition, the disclosed fair value may not be realized in the immediate settlement of the financial asset. In addition, the disclosed fair values do not reflect any premium or discount that could result from offering for sale at one time an entire holding of a particular financial asset. Potential taxes and other expenses that would be incurred in an actual sale or settlement are not reflected in amounts disclosed.

(g) Fixed Assets

Office furniture, equipment, and leasehold improvements are carried at cost. Depreciation and amortization are provided on the straight-line method over 3 to 10 years for office furniture and equipment and the lesser of the lease term or estimated useful life for leasehold improvements. During 2010, IPPF/WHR purchased a floor in a building and depreciation began upon occupancy in August 2011 and is provided on the straight-line method over 39.5 years.

(h) Expenses

The costs of the various programs and other activities have been classified on a functional basis in the statements of activities and functional expenses. Expenses that can be directly identified with a program or supporting service are charged accordingly. Other costs, including condo fees, telephone, and postage, are allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited based upon salary expense. Depreciation expense is allocated among the programs and supporting services benefited based on number of employees within department.

Grants made are recognized as expenses and liabilities in the period in which they are formally approved and communicated to the grantee.

(i) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(j) Comparative Financial Information

The accompanying statements of activities and functional expenses are presented with prior year summarized financial information in total, but not by net asset class or functional category. Such information does not include sufficient detail to constitute a presentation in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. Accordingly, such information should be read in conjunction with IPPF/WHR's December 31, 2016 financial statements from which the summarized information was derived.

(k) Income Taxes

IPPF/WHR is not subject to income taxes except to the extent it has taxable income from activities that are not related to its exempt purpose. IPPF/WHR recognizes the effect of income tax positions only if those positions are more likely than not of being sustained. No provision for income taxes was required for fiscal 2017 or 2016.

(I) Reclassifications

Certain prior year amounts have been reclassified to conform to the current year presentation.

(3) Investments

IPPF/WHR invests in various investment securities. Investment securities are exposed to various risks such as interest rate, market, and credit risks. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and that such changes could materially affect the amounts reported in the statement of financial position.

The following table presents IPPF/WHR's fair value hierarchy for those assets measured at fair value as of December 31, 2017 and 2016:

(6) Pension Plan

IPPF/WHR has a noncontributory defined-contribution plan covering substantially all employees. Contributions are determined based on 11.37% of eligible total employee compensation. (7) Amounts Held for IPPF/London for Cape Verde Funds and for APROFAM Association Pro-Bienestar de la Familia de Guatemala

At December 31, 2017 and 2016, IPPF/WHR held $1,448,241 and $1,286,081, respectively, on behalf of IPPF/London. These funds, originally received by IPPF/London from the United States Agency for International Development (USAID), are to be used as a quasi-endowment fund to provide a permanent source of financial support for family planning and sexual and reproductive health programs in Cape Verde, Africa. IPPF/WHR has invested these funds on behalf of IPPF/London.

In April 2005, APROFAM Association Pro-Bienestar de la Familia de Guatemala, member association of IPPF in the Western Hemisphere Region, designated IPPF/WHR as its agent for the purpose of investing the APROFAM sustainability funds for its mission of providing quality family planning and reproductive and child health services to lower-income families in Guatemala. As agent, IPPF/WHR shall have no liability to APROFAM for any actions or failure to act under the custodian agreement. IPPF/WHR invested the APROFAM funds of $7,593,524 in April 2005. At December 31, 2017 and 2016, these funds were valued at $16,541,360 and $14,689,356, respectively. No distributions were made during 2017 or 2016.

(8) Endowment Funds

IPPF/WHR has a temporarily restricted and a board-designated endowment fund: The Endowment Fund for Sustainability (EFS) and the IPPF/WHR Board Endowment Fund (the Fund).

The EFS is a temporarily restricted fund created in 1998 by IPPF/WHR and USAID as a source of low-interest loans and grants for income-generating and sustainability efforts of IPPF/WHR associations. Loans receivable and other assets at December 31, 2017 and 2016 include $487,795 and $997,130, respectively, of loans receivable from affiliated MAs. The loans bear interest at rates ranging from the London Interbank Offered Rate plus 0.38% to 6.5% and are due through 2027. This fund's net asset at December 31, 2017 and 2016 totaled $1,881,832 and $1,729,481, respectively.

The Fund was established by IPPF/WHR's board of directors in 1999 as a means to enhance the sustainability of the Regional Office (IPPF/WHR). In 2002, IPPF/WHR designated approximately $18 million from a single bequest to be added to the Fund. At its meeting in June 2002, the board of directors agreed not to use this Fund for a period of two years in order to restore some of the Fund's value, which had been reduced by investment losses. In 2005, the board of directors approved an annual spending rate of 4% of the three-year rolling average for this Fund. In April 2006, IPPF/WHR's board of directors approved a transfer of $18 million to The IPPF WHR Fund, a not-for-profit corporation exempt from income tax under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, established to promote sexual and reproductive health, including family planning in the Western Hemisphere Region (note 10). (10) Interest in The IPPF WHR Fund

IPPF/WHR follows the provisions of Accounting Standards Codification Topic 958 (ASC 958), Not-for-Profit Entities. ASC 958 establishes standards for transactions that are not contributions because the transfers are revocable, repayable, or reciprocal. A transfer of assets to a recipient organization is an equity transfer if (i) the resource provider specifies itself or its affiliates as the beneficiary, (ii) the resource provider and the recipient organization are financially interrelated organizations, and (iii) neither the resource provider nor its affiliate expects payment of the transferred assets, although payment of investment return on the transferred assets may be expected. In accordance with ASC 958, at December 31, 2017 and 2016, IPPF/WHR has recorded its interest of $21,782,098 and $20,098,423, respectively, in The IPPF WHR Fund.
